PLANNING COMMISH TO BACK MILLER IN GRAND JURY GROWL

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—"A soft answer" to the County Grand Jury's criticism of zoning and planning practices and administration was agreed upon Tuesday at a special session of the County Planning Commission.

However, the commission started its three-hour session in a more belligerent mood over the grand jury report.

"The criticism is totally unwarranted and evidence a profound lack of understanding of the subject they're discussing," David K. Speer, road commissioner, said of the grand jurors attack on administration of the controversial "split lot" ordinance.

Robert Berrey, deputy county counsel, warned commissioners to be more moderate in their reply. He said that the grand jury might have some knowledge of inequities in the administration of the split lot law that the commissioners did not know about.

The commission also decided to ask the grand jury for particular cases on which the claims of "inequities" and lack of planning cooperation were based.

Commission Chairman Gilbert Ray pointed out that most of the testimony heard by the grand jury had come from persons with complaints. He said that appearing before the grand jury by commissioners had been like "going into a court trial with all the witnesses just on one side."

Ray also said that the grand jury criticism of the split lot law and the administration of it was aimed at one person, Dr. Willis H. Miller, county planning director. He added that the power given Miller by the law would not have been recommended by the private citizens' committee if members had not thought this was the best way to implement the law.

Ray said a statement on Miller would also be made at its Oct. 6 session. However, individual committee members polled by newsmen said that the planning director is not in the slightest danger of losing his job.

The commission's public meeting, despite the fact that it was well publicized, was not attended by any of the public except for the presence for a few minutes before it ended of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd T. Veen, of Escondido, who circulated petitions early this year to have the split lot ordinance put to a vote. The petitions were found faulty, and the law became effective March 6.

Church Must Acquire More Land To Build

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A special use permit asked for the Bible Baptist Church in La Presa was denied Friday by the County Planning Commission, on the grounds that the area to be used was not large enough.

The church land is on Concepcion avenue, between St. George and San Francisco sts. The commission was told that the area involved contains only 28,000 square feet, on which plans were to put a church auditorium, a Sunday school building and parking for 45 cars.

The church is newly organized and is now meeting in a local real estate office. He said the size of the congregation had grown from zero to 56 since July, so permanent quarters were needed.

J. T. Wood, pastor of the church, said a new application for a larger piece of property would be filed.

JUDGE TO INSTRUCT

Municipal Court Judge Robert O. Staniforth will coordinate a new discussion program to be presented by University of California Extension beginning Oct. 5 at Roosevelt Junior High School.

Accident Kills Man, Injures 3

One man died and three persons were injured Friday night of last week in the second fatal accident within two days on Sweetwater rd. near Paradise Valley rd. in Spring Valley.

Kendall Dean Vasold, 34, of 1425 Mission, El Cajon, died in Paradise Valley hospital soon after his arrival there.

The car he was driving went off the curve 220-feet south of Paradise Valley rd. at 8:35 p.m. It overturned several times as it rolled down the embankment, ejecting occupants.

Vasold's 28-year-old wife, Betsy, received major back injuries from the accident; Beverly Adams, 27, of 4235 34th st., San Diego, sustained major head injuries, and Carl M. Beagle, 39, of 6318 Birchwood, San Diego, received major lacerations.

FALLOUT SHELTER DISTRICT GETS OK FROM SUP. BIRD

Lemon Grove may have a bomb shelter district sooner than most people think, it was reported Wednesday by Dr. Dennis McLaughlin, president of the L.G. Coordinating council.

He said that he had been in session with County Supervisor David W. Bird earlier on Wednesday and Bird had promised "approval and support" of such a plan.

The Coordinating Council last week had voted to form such a district. It contemplated fallout shelters beneath playgrounds at all L.G. schools and others beneath local parks.

A warehouse for storing medical supplies, food and water was proposed for a huge canyon site near the Monterey Heights school. The canyon would be covered over and the cover would be used for recreation.

Supervisor Bird referred Dr. McLaughlin to county counsel to ascertain the legality form a district. The Coordinating Council is seeking to establish the district under provisions of the recreation section of the Communities Service District Act.

President McLaughlin said that County Counsel Betram McLees, near noon Wednesday, had told him that such a district should be formed under a Recreation and Park District Act.

McLaughlin said that McLees explained that the district would be far more flexible than under the Community Services Act. The Park District Act would make it easier for the District officials to get on county, state, and federal programs, especially defense stockpiling programs.

McLaughlin said that he was told there would be two ways to handle the formation of the district. 1) The board of supervisors could adopt a resolution and the district would be formed without any additional fanfare. 2) The proposed district may petition by a number of persons equal to 25 per cent of the number casting votes in the 1958 election.

McLaughlin said he would carry the information back to the Council for further action.

JURY FINDS LEMON GROVE WOMAN ASSAULTER GUILTY

Robert Trujillo, Chief Hospital Corpsman at the Coronado Amphibious Base, was found guilty in the second degree Thursday by a jury in its S.D. Superior Court of robbing a Lemon Grove couple, Mr. and Mrs. John Lukass, 16662 La Corta st., last January of a diamond ring valued at $2,200.

Trujillo was recognized by Lukass, a sailor at North Island Naval Station, when Trujilla drove up to a bar in Coronado. He had answered an advertisement of the diamond ring and spent the evening discussing the matter with the Lukasses. The next day Trujilla appeared at the Lukass house after Mr. Lukass had left for work, ostensibly to pay for the ring. Mrs. Lukass charged that instead of paying, he assaulted her and forcibly took the ring and watch from her.

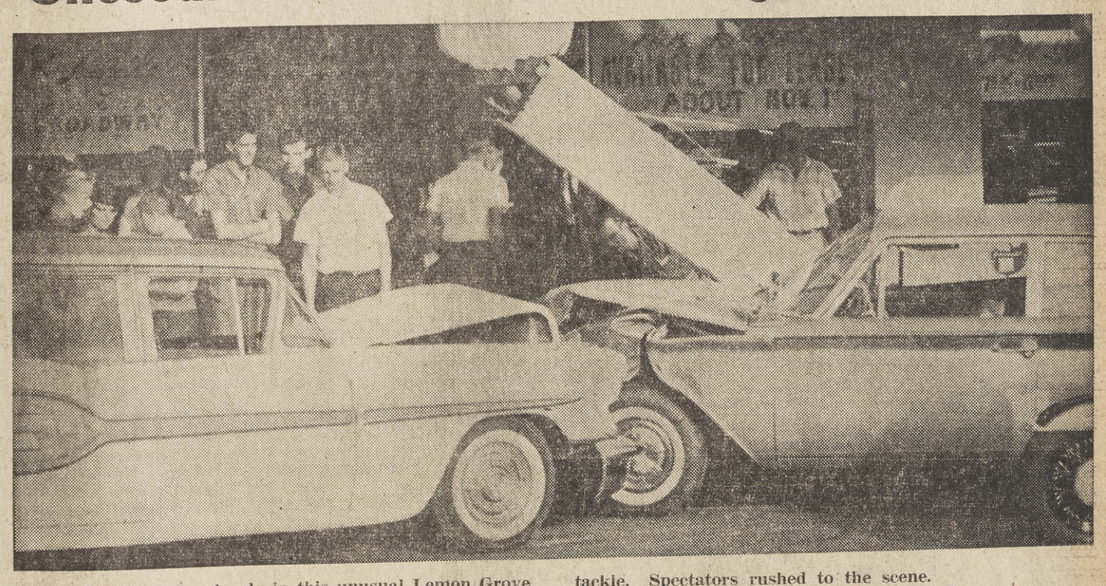
Unusual Grove Accident Brings Onlookers



No one was hurt seriously in this unusual Lemon Grove accident which occurred during the peak afternoon period at 4:25 p.m. on Fri., Sept. 22 at Golden and Imperial, the heart of Lemon Grove. The 1958 Pontiac station wagon on the left, driven by Margery Irene Burnsworth of 1603 Svea Ct., Lemon Grove, was going south in the northbound lane after the car jumped the center island. It struck the parked car on the right, a 1960 Ford owned by Merle Atwell of San Diego. The motion pushed the Ford into a pickup truck (not in picture) and took out the pillar of the Art Leith building like a football player making a tackle. Spectators rushed to the scene.

Mrs. Burnsworth, who received minor injuries, reported that she was westbound on Broadway and, in going south onto Imperial, turned too sharply, bumping over the center island. She was cited for driving on the wrong side of the road. Both the Ford and the pickup, owned by Rex Foster of 3025 Rendevous rd., Lemon Grove, were legally parked.

Where Does Our Industry Go?

There is resentment among many Spring Valley people because of fear that the county government will give more heavy-industrial-use permits to business firms in the south S.V.-L.G. areas.

The fear is justifiable in view of the fact that several permits have already been issued for industrial purposes fairly close to subdivisions of brand-new homes down Sweetwater road.

Auto wrecking places and firms that burn some of their residue are creating the most concern. At least one meeting was scheduled by La Presa people to assess the degree of blight such operations bring.

The truth of the matter is that most of the heavy-industrial use property was there before the area developed so completely, and, unfortunately, such development sets up a chicken-egg type cycle. Industry needs employes and employes want to live near their work. Some members of the planning department have been considering so-called waste areas east of here for establishing huge areas for heavy industry but faults in this philosophy can be seen immediately. One, is that industry must be relatively close to transportation, to metro areas for supplies, and to suburban areas for workers. An additional fault is that there is no such thing as cheap land. The owners of the hilly wastes east of us think of their property in terms of another Mt. Helix.

A better plan would be for interested local folks to insist on full use of the county special-use permit with its provisions of time control. These special-use certificates could be renewable every couple of years and if the industry was too dirty, requests could be made of the supervisors that the permits not be renewed.

The demand for land in San Diego county is just too great to hope for an easy solution to the local industrial use problem. One step in discerning any hope for solving it would be an east-county inventory of possible sites.

Is Welfare For Welfare Workers?

From the National Association of Social Workers, California Council, comes a letter this week signed by Julia Bloomfield, the Council's president.

She urges for herself and the 3,000 professionally trained people who serve on our welfare payroll in this state, that the "repressive and tax-cutting program in Newburgh, N.Y." should be editorialized against by this newspaper.

She claims the Newburgh program "is neither a sound nor democratic approach" to this state's relief program.

As you all know, the Newburgh plan had two major points to recommend it, and we think these points splendid and appropriate.

Women of Newburgh, bearers of illegitimate children, were taken off relief roles after the second illegitimate child was spawned.

Men of Newburgh, who are employable, were required to take city jobs instead of relief checks. These jobs were at a

High School District To Request $8 Million For Grossmont College

The Grossmont Union high school district is to have three issues on the ballot for the Oct. 10 election. These include the following:

1) A bond issue for $8 million for a Grossmont Junior College, purpose being to acquire two sites and to construct buildings (based on the initial enrollment of 2,500) and to furnish and equip the plant. This will be on the ballot as Proposition No. 1.

The second issue, known as Prop. "A" has to do with a bond issue of $1,800,000 for the purpose of maintaining the high school district building program. Also specifying the construction of high school No. 8, to be located in Santee.

The bond issue is necessary, according to Harold Hughes, associate superintendent of G.U.H.S.D., for participation in the State School Building Aid program. It is necessary for the District to be bonded to capacity to be eligible for money from the State. (This also applies to the LM-SV School District.

The Grossmont Union High School District has already been authorized to borrow money from the State, but has not been authorized to issue bonds. That is mainly the purpose of approval by the voters, Hughes said. He pointed out that this will not affect the tax rate of 44 cents which is the combined amount; which is interest and redemption of the outstanding bonds of the district plus repayment of that borrowed from the State.

Proposition "B" on the ballot for the Grossmont district, has to do with an increase in the tax rate from $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation, to $1.50. This will be for a two year period, the present rate ending June 30, 1962.

If the election fails, Hughes said, then the tax rate will revert back to the 75 cents, which was the rate before the present one. He said the increase is necessary in order to maintain the present program and not calculated to allow enrichment of the present program.

Do you think the San Diego City Council was right in firing City Manager George Bean?

Victor D. Riska, Rhohr Aircraft employe, 3281 Massachusetts ave., Lemon Grove:

Victor D. Riska

"If the council lacked faith in George Bean and found it hard to work with him, I believe they did the right thing by firing him. He seems to have backed programs which have not proven themselves to be the best. However, there seems to have been some politics involved in the firing.

"If the matter had been put to a popular vote, I think the people would have been split evenly on whether to fire Bean. I think that many things Bean has been involved in have been of great benefit to the city."

Mrs. Nora Crawford, housewife, 3563 Chamoune ave., San Diego:

Mrs. Nora Crawford

"The council was wrong. I believe that Bean did well as city manager. I believe he was right on the North Park parking meter situation and I can't see where he was to blame on the sewer mis-estimation.

"I felt sorry for Bean when I heard about his getting fired. Do we Americans oust every public official who makes a mistake? Public officials are only human and are entitled to make mistakes now and then."

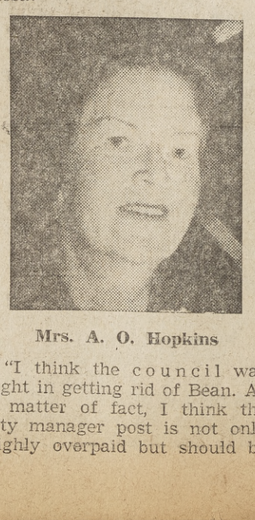
Duane Williams, bakery routeman, 1242 Lincoln st., San Diego:

Duane Williams

"The council was right. I don't see why it was necessary in the first place to find an outsider for the city manager job with qualified men available locally. And I feel Bean was to blame for our not getting the $70-million moonshot plant in San Diego.

"He was not qualified when he got the job because Peoria, where he worked before coming here, wasn't faced with the same problems San Diego has. Furthermore, I cannot think of one item that Bean brought to a successful conclusion. It seemed that every newspaper story about Bean was bad. This could have been partly because only bad things were given publicity.

Mrs. A. O. Hopkins, housewife, 4129 Woodland dr., La Mesa:



Mrs. A. O. Hopkins

"I think the council was right in getting rid of Bean. As a matter of fact, I think the city manager post is not only highly overpaid but should be done away with altogether.

"Also, I think the city council shouldn't be allowed to decide on things but that everything should be put to a popular vote. I think a popular vote on Bean, however, would have been in favor of the decision that the council made about Bean."

Lustgarten, cellist, at 18, joined the NBC symphony under Toscanini as its youngest member. He has appeared as soloist with that orchestra and with the Chicago and St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

Appearing in concert during the past summer with Heifetz and Piatagorsky, Israel Baker has been concertmaster with the Hollwyood Bowl Orchestra and for the Musical Arts Society in La Jolla.

Ranch Club Wins Planners OK

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The Carman Ranch Club's revised plot plan for buildings along the east property line, of its site at the intersection of Sweetwater road and Valencia street, Lemon Grove, Friday won the approval of the County Planning Commercial.

The club, a commercial recreational enterprise on Sept. 8 asked to be allowed to put eight duplexes and two four-unit dwellings 20 feet from its rear property line.

The commission delayed action, on the basis that the club operators had agreed in 1959 to a 25-foot setback and to six fewer dwelling units than it was asking. Commissioners also protested that parking was proposed on the south property line, with no "buffer" area to protect neighboring property.

The plan approved Friday cut out only one four-unit dwelling and left parking on the south property line, but it put the dwelling units back 25 feet from the east line, instead of the 20 feet asked at the previous session.

rate no lower than the lowest pay rate of the city.

Miss Bloomfield says these conditions are "inhuman" because it cuts people off welfare without "consideration of their needs."

Inhuman? Inconsiderate? Well, hardly.

One illegitimate child born to woman is unfortunate. Two establishes a habit pattern by which the taxpayer is being charged for immoral bedtime proclivities of others. No one would willingly subscribe to such a program.

Nor should any man feel "oppressed" because he has to work for a living even though he is called upon to work for the city government. This is more honorable than accepting a welfare handout. If any is oppressed, it is the working stiff who labors year after year to support the fantastic ideologies of welfarers, and to pay the high cost of welfare - much of which is taken up by some bums who are self-styled "professional" welfare workers.

Too Much Government

We like the opinion expressed by U. S. Congressman Barry Goldwater relating to present concept of federal government.

Those who deplore the rapid enlargement of the federal government are accused of being totally opposed to federal government, he said.

"Too much government interference is tyranny; too little government is anarchy. We must find the middleground, a government strong enough to provide for the common defense, protect the domestic tranquility and permit the individual to enjoy maximum freedom and maximum responsibility consistent with God's commandment that we love our neighbor and have an inescapable obligation to our fellow man," he added.

Lincoln couldn't have said it better.

Our Navy Is A Complex Machine

An entirely different perspective of our Navy was developed not long ago by the Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp in which the Navy is likened to a game of chess.

Far be it from us to think of one of our strongest war deterrent machines as a game-piece, and neither does the writer. The analogy gives the reader the feeling of another dimension for our Navy. It follows:

You Are Playing a Game of Chess . . . It is a game you have played for a century and a half, but now it is suddenly grimmer, more deadly, more complicated.

It is played on a five dimensional board, a part of which is forever hidden from your view.

Your opponent has the advantage of first move and he can make up new rules as he goes along.

You must not rest, nor take your eyes from the board, for he can move at any place, at any time; day or night, year in and year out.

The stakes are high; whoever loses this game is not likely to survive to play another.

The board on which you play covers seven-tenths of the earth's surface; so huge that the ponderous, multi-thousand-ton pieces you move upon it are lost in its immensity.

It is, moreover, a surface that is never the same, twice running. It can change, almost unpredictably, from a glassy smoothness to a series of mountainous ridges, moving at express train speed.

Part of the surface is obscured by fog; part is covered with ice constantly changing in shape and depth. The edges of the board are the thousand tortuous shorelines of the world; reef and shoal, bar and rock; bay and harbor and cay.

The field of play descends for more than six miles. It ends there in a terrain that is less known to you than the surface of the moon which — some 270,000 miles away — forms the extremity of your other dimension.

You are engaged in history's most deadly game of chess.

You are the U. S. Navy!

PLANNERS GET COMPLAINT ON FAILURE TO NOTIFY

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A study of records of the County Board of Supervisors Monday clarified the position of Lemon Grove property owners reportedly protesting a special use permit granted to the First Congregation Church, on Glebe road.

The permit was approved by the County Planning Commission in August, and Mrs. R. C. Harlan complained to the County Board of Supervisors later that property owners had not received notice of the hearing on the permit.

In her letter, she reported that property owners understood that the church would be on both sides of Glebe road, saying "while no opposition may have been put against the variance," they thought they should have been notified.

Dr. Willis H. Miller, county planning director, then reported to Supervisors that Mrs. Harlan had been contacted and that she and other property owners had "no objections to the proposed church development as long as it is restricted to the area located on the west side of Glebe road only."

The Miller report was in writing, but when the letter from Mrs. Harlan was on the Board of Supervisors' Sept. 5 docket, Miller reported verbally that property owners were satisfied because the church was not on both sides of Glebe road. He did not explain the basis for the protests against lack of notification.

Supervisors then "filed" the letter from Mrs. Harlan.

LG Fire Chief Advises People To Read Labels

Lemon Grove Fire Chief H. L. Hensley says, "Be a label reader and live."

This is a Fire Prevention reminder from your Lemon Grove Fire Department.

Every year there are thousands of serious accidents and fires caused by failure to observe warnings printed on cans of flammable lacquers, finishes, paint removers, thinners, mastics, cleaners and similar materials.

Before you use materials of this kind, the chief urges, give the label a good, careful reading. If it contains a flammable solvent, the label will carry a warning, and your own safety depends on your heeding that warning.

According to the National Fire Protection Assn., materials safest to use are marked "non-combustible" or "non-flammable." If you have a choice, use materials labeled this way.

Next in safety are materials marked: "Caution! Combustible."

If the label reads "Danger! Extremely Flammable" or "Warning — Flammable" or "Caution, Inflammable Mixture," take care! These materials give off vapors which need only a touch of flame or spark to turn them into a dangerous flash of fire.

Whenever you must work with materials of this type, follow these rules and be fire safe:

1) Work in a well-ventilated area, preferably outside; 2) Shut off all pilots, stoves and other flame - producing devices in the area; 3) Don't smoke while using these flammables.

How To Be A Leader

Specialists To Teach State Leadership School

A school of leadership will be sponsored for the fourth consecutive year by the California State Employes Assn., John H. Ritz, president of CSEA, announced today.

Consisting of 10 two-hour meetings, each with a different specialist presenting a lecture, the leadership school opens on Sept. 26 at San Diego State. The meetings will begin at 7 p.m. All sessions except the award dinner will be in the auditorium of the Education Building.

Ritz said the course is designed to assist California state employes in increasing their knowledge of leadership techniques, in order to improve their services to the public and win the cooperation of co-workers.

BALL, BENNETT ON BOARD

A planning board representative of San Diego area CSEA members set up the leadership school. Members of the board include: Rex Ball, Department of Employment; Beth Bennett, Department of Motor Vehicles; David Burns, Division of Highways; Pearl Koopmans, San Diego State; J. Heryet, branch manager of the State Franchise Tax Board, as coordinator for this year's school.

Civil Defense Conception For Schools Changes

The Grossmont Union High School District Board of Trustees learned that recent developments in civilian defense had changed emphasis from evacuation to shelter protection. Evacuation procedures will be in effect, however, if sufficient advance warning is given until notification is given by Civilian Defense authorities.

The schools and other public structures are to be surveyed for their relative values for protection against radiation and fallout. Emphasis is now being placed upon the fact that adequately constructed shelters can insure survival except in the immediate area of nuclear blast.

One of the problems involved in protection of school children is that there is no assurance that the schools will be given more than 15 to 30 minutes of impending nuclear attack. Therefore, each school must analyze the problem and if advance warning is not sufficient to permit the students to arrive at home, the places which offer the most protection in a school must be identified.

Grossmont Union High School District bands will not appear at professional football games under a decision reached by the Grossmont Union High School District Board of Trustees Monday evening. A proposal had been presented to the Board that individual students under the sponsorship of the band parents organization and prohibition of any district funds for transportation could be approved without violation of a code section which prevents appearance at events where admission is charged and the proceeds are not used for charity. Colleges and universities are specifically excepted from the code provision.

Superintendent Lewis Smith had proposed band parent sponsorship as a means of permitting students to have the experience of performing before the larger audiences at games which are often televised on a nation-wide net work.

Comparative Report On Potential College Locations Is Delayed

A progress report on the comparison of two potential junior college sites in the Fletcher Hills-Santee area indicated the complete report would not be available for another two or three weeks. The report was made by the architectural firm of Richard Wheeler- Koebig and Koebig, and Charles Luckman Associates, to the Grossmont Junior College District Board of Trustees on Monday evening. The thorough consideration of all of the factors involved in the comparison of the two sites was commended by the Board.

A portion of the 160 acre parcel located north of the red and white water tank in Fletcher Hills is being compared with the Temple property two miles north of Santee and west of Magnolia. The comparison will include costs and all factors pertaining to suitability and feasibility of development for a junior college campus to serve a maximum of 6,000 students.

The report presented by Richard Wheeler, architect, and M. J. Shelton, engineer, gave consideration to zoning, present and future, driving time from all portions of the district, future population density, public transportation service, grading problems, cost and availability to sewer, water, electricity, and gas, and drainage problems. The architect also defined the minimum space needed for 6,000 students at 111.9 acres with 53.5 acres for the building area, present and future, 35 acres for parking and access roads, 23.3 acres for physical education facilities.

After the report has been completed the governing board will decide which of these two sites is to be purchased. It is then contemplated that the site will be compared with a site on the Monte Vista Ranch to determine which one of the two will be developed in the initial construction program.

The purchase of two sites plus construction of facilities for 2,500 students on one site will be financed by the $8,000,000 bond election scheduled for October 10. District Superintendent Lewis F. Smith pointed out that the high school building program would not add to the tax levy and that the cost for the two high school issues including the bonds and proposal to increase the operating tax ceiling from $1.25 to $1.50 would total $20 a year or about $1.75 per month for the average homeowner.

Dear Editor:

It is a shame that we in America should give publicity to misrepresentations like those made in a petition bearing the names of W. J. Miller, David Hardin and H. G. Snodgrass. At least one of these men have opposed almost everything representing progress in this area with their own brand of propaganda. In addition, Miller has been a citizen of this country only 11 years. Does he really know about our heritage, our democratic thoughts, our love of this great nation, and the aspirations we as Americans have for our children?

These men have been given the truth several times, yet they refuse to accept it! It seems they would rather oppose everything. It is as if they have already made up their minds and do not wish to be confused by facts. I think their point of view is based on prejudice. Why didn't they give the names of the people who contacted them to request that the superintendent be ousted? Perhaps because those people are limited to themselves?

These men seem to forget that we, as Americans, need to mold together now more than ever before with international tensions as they are at present, and certainly on the subject of education.

MAIL BAG

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank you for your effort to give a true picture of the issues involved in the coming school election. Being a citizen who has lived in this area long enough to see our school system grow from one elementary school and one high school district to what it is now, I feel called upon to point out a few facts that I am sure many of our new citizens are not aware of.

1. The Mr. Warburton that so violently opposes the bond issues and tax override measures is no relation to the very fine and highly respected educator of this area, Mr. John Warburton.

2. The Mrs. Budrick, who we hear from so regularly in opposition to our hard working school board and administrators, is no relation to the Dean at Grossmont Jr. College.

3. The Roland Pairs, that are now being heard from in opposition, are no relation to that very respected Mrs. Kenneth Pear or Eunice Pear, who has always stood and worked for the very best for our schools.

It is interesting also to note that two of the strong opponents were raised in a mother country that our founding fathers long ago disagreed with on many points; and it was thees very men who wanted good public education for all the youth of America.

So I say to all you interested citizens let's not be mislead by a few who are disgruntled or hold grudges. We all have a time paying our taxes these days, but let's be willing to pay these that we can see results from each day as we watch the youth of our area going forth to become leading citizens. Let's give them the best we can, it may not be good enough.

MAN'S GOD-GIVEN RIGHT TO CONQUER EVIL TOLD IN SERMON

"Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God." These words from the prophet Isaiah (43:12) are the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon on "Man" in all Christian Science churches on Sunday.

Strong assurance of man's God-given right to conquer every form of evil will highlight the sermon.

Scriptural selections include these striking words of Paul to the Romans (8:35, 37), "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? . . . Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us."

Spring Valley Chamber Considering Affiliation With National CC

A motion was passed Monday night by the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce to affiliate with the United States Chamber of Commerce. This has been brought up before the body of the chamber several times before and tabled. Monday night's decision came after Ray Sherer, executive manager of the La Mesa Chamber spoke at the S.V. meeting, pointing out the advantages of such an affiliation.

He said dues in the national organization are based on a local chamber's income from dues. The local organization would pay $25 per year, and would receive many publications from the national unit as well as much information regarding business and other important items. The local organization would be entitled to send one delegate to the national meetings or convention.

SPEAKERS SUPPORT SCHOOL ELECTION

The Spring Valley chamber Monday night heard three speakers give support to the coming schools election on October 10: Leslie Phillips, chairman of the La Mesa-Spring Valley Citizens Advisory Council said we should all support the election in order to keep the good schools we now have. He said the cost to the taxpayer for the small raise in taxes would be no more than it cost for one package of cigarettes per week.

Larry Cons, dean of admission and guidance for the new Grossmont Junior College, urged a "yes" vote on $8 million for purchase of two college sites and the building of the college itself. He told of the tremendous enrollment at the new college and about many adults coming back for refresher courses. He said the college will be one of the top J C's in the state. He said the strongest thing we have in our society is our schools.

MURDOCK PRAISED

The other speaker was Pat Hyndman of Tropico dr., at the edge of Spring Valley. Hyndman, a member of the County Board of Education, gave a talk similar to that he gave to the S.V. Kiwanis Club, telling of the advancement in education and science in the United States, and the program for the gifted student. He also praised the staff of the La Mesa-Spring Valley schools, and pointed out in particular, the ability of Superintendent Glenn Murdock, saying Murdock was regarded, not only in California, but in the nation, as a top educator.

In other business, Bill Zabel, chairman of the Spring Valley parade scheduled for Nov. 4, gave a report on the progress of parade plans. He said there are now 53 units ready to join the parade. He said, however, more local help is needed, particularly to sell tickets, which will allow someone to come in possession of a new 23-inch tee vee set. Zabel also stated that a pancake breakfast at the Mt. Miguel High cafeteria will be held the morning of the parade, at 50 cents a plate.

BETTY SEYMOUR ROBINSON NEW CHAMBER SECRETARY

The new secretary's office in the Chamber of Commerce hall is about ready and president Chet Smith announces that office hours will be Wednesdays, 9 a.m. to noon; Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays, 1 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Betty Seymour Robinson, secretary, will be in the office. Chet Smith said the office became necessary because of the growth of the Valley and the large number of out-of-towners and out-of-staters asking for information about the Spring Valley area. The office will be opened about Oct. 1.

A billion dollars was lost last year by Americans who were forced off their jobs by heart disease, according to your Heart association. This would compare with a city of 106,000 people out of work for an entire year.

County Boundary Commish Okays Schools Boundaries

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The boundaries of two La Presa, Spring Valley areas to be taken from the Chula Vista City School District were approved lately by the County Boundary Commission.

The boundary changes are to provide a 980-acre addition to the San Diego Unified School District and one of 247 acres to the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District.

The latter boundary change involves the area in Spring Valley Estates unit number three that only three weeks ago aroused so much feeling before the County Board of Education, when children in the area were ordered to attend a Chula Vista district school, although they are only a few blocks from a La Mesa-Spring Valley district school.

AGREED FORMERLY

The proposed changes of boundary are the result of a 1958 agreement among the three school districts, whereby all the area north of the proposed route for the South Bay freeway would be divided between the San Diego district and the La Mesa-Spring Valley district.

This area is now in the Chula Vista City School District, but the three school districts agreed that land on the other side of the freeway was not convenient for service from Chula Vista.

San Diego is to get the westerly part of the area, ending at the top of a mesa. The rest is to go to La Mesa-Spring Valley, and that district already has part of the area, that in the first two units of the Spring Valley Estates subdivision.

County School Department officials were in the County Boundary Commission hearing Tuesday morning. But they took no part in the discussion.

Dr. Cecil Hardesty, county school superintendent, now that the boundaries have been approved, will have to recommend to the County Board of Supervisors either to call an election to decide on the boundary changes or to hold a public hearing on the question.

Pink and white was the color motif for the wedding. The bride's gown was of white bridal silk, en bouffant, with Alencon lace pointed bodice and scalloped neckline embroidered with pearls and sequins. Pearls and sequin embroidered lace medallions decorated the floor-length skirt, which was draped over a hoop. The sweetheart pointed long sleeves were of lace. A shoulder-length double veil was caught into a coronet of pearls and sequins. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and satin ribbons centered with detachable corsage.

Mrs. Ruby Smithart, gowned in pink with a pink prayer cap and pink carnations, acted as matron of honor. The bridesmaids, the Misses Sandra Cook and Talitha Spirz, wore bouffant pink dresses of de soie, with pink and white Colonial bouquets and white prayer caps.

Chargers Commence Extended Road Trip

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 27 — An extended road trip, which will see the Chargers away from the comfortable confines of Balboa Stadium for four consecutive games, takes Western Division-leading San Diego to Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium on the first stop. Kickoff for the Saturday night encounter is 4:05 (PST).

Radio KOGO, with Al Couppee and Lute Mason at the mike, will broadcast the action, live.

The Bills, who many experts believe are substantially overhauled to offer a winning argument for the Eastern Division crown, are beginning to show signs of life after a slow preseason start. Buffalo lost four straight exhibition outings and their first league encounter before thumping New York 41-31, followed by a narrow 23-21 loss to Boston.

Buffalo enjoyed a remarkable draft, which saw them sign such outstanding rookies as Auburn tackle Ken Rice, Georgia Tech guard, Billy Shaw, Syracuse fullback Art Baker, Penn State tackle Stew Barber and Georgia halfback Fred Brown, among others.

In addition, the Bills seem to have solved their quarterback problems with the recent acquisitions of former Detroit Lion Warren Rabb and ex-Cardinal M. C. Reynolds. These two join Johnny Green and Richie Lucas to form a formidable signal-calling corps.

Imperial Valley Man Wins Top Derby Prize

An Imperial Valley angler, who has competed in the San Diego Yellowtail Derby every year since its inception without even taking a qualifier, had a sudden change of luck Saturday during the 15th annual Derby Day fishoff. His 20-lb. 15-oz. yellowtail, taken aboard the Betty Lou, rated the top prize of a 1961 Chevrolet station wagon for Mel Ferguson, 563 Willard, Brawley, Calif.

Ferguson, a fishing enthusiast for more than 30 years, is an employe of Ryerson Concrete Company in El Centro. His winning yellowtail will be mounted free by Lyons & O'Haver of San Diego.

Although 433 had qualified as finalists, only 329 anglers registered in the Derby Day fishoff, taking a total of 62 yellows. The fishoff climaxed 23 consecutive weeks of competition, which drew anglers from all parts of California and Arizona and even the Midwest, according to Andy Grayner, chairman of the 1961 Derby, which is sponsored annually by the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Monte Vista Not Asleep

West Defeats East 19-13 In Grossmont Grid Carnival

by Bill Ott Jr.

The West paced by surprise teams Monte Vista and Mt. Miguel rolled by the East 19-13 in last Friday night's Grossmont District League Carnival held in Aztec Bowl at San Diego State College. The pregame pageantry and football action which signals the opening of the grid season was viewed by a record 13,500 fans.

Playing under the West banner were Monte Vista, El Cajon, El Capitan, and Mt. Miguel. The East was represented by Grossmont's White team and Gold team, Granite Hills, and Helix.

Monte Vista, tabbed as a "sleeper" by this writer, started the West on the scoreboard with a 7-0 victory over the Grossmont Gold team in their football debut. Senior halfback Ron Scagliotti took the ball around left end five yards into paydirt to finish a 27 yard drive.

WESTCOTT NABS PASS

Monarch Rod Westcott set up the drive by intercepting a Chad McClellan pass on the Grossmont 27-yard line. Westcott playing the halfback slot, quarterback Ron Maki, Scagliotti, and fullback Bill Grey moved the ball 22 yards in four plays to the 5 yard marker where Scagliotti scored on the following play. Martin Fitzurka successfully booted the PAT for the seventh Monte Vista point.

EL CAJON WINS

El Cajon tallied the second West touchdown in the second period of play against Granite Hills. Quarterback Owen Rinner passed 20 yards to end John Savoy who snagged the pass while surrounded by Granite Hills defenders and fell into the end zone for the 6-pointer. The Braves of El Cajon started their drive on their own 35 yard line when Russ Eacher intercepted Tom Roth's pass. The Braves failed to score the PAT giving the West a 13-0 margin going into the halftime intermission.

WHITES WIN 6-0

Grossmont's White team scored the first East touchdown by driving 58 yards against El Capitan in the opening kick-off of the third quarter. The Foothiller scoring drive was paced by Bill Young's pass from his quarterback position, and the flashy running of halfback Steve Adams. Young tossed a pass to Adams that was good for 15 yards, and moved the ball to the El Capitan 17. Adams carried around left end to the 10, and repeated the play again moving to the 3 yard line where Young ran it over on the following play. An attempted run for the PAT failed leaving the West over on the following play. An attempted run for the PAT failed leaving the West ahead, 13-6.

El Capitan displayed a fine running attack with Leon Hersog carrying the load, but after grinding away yardage to the Grossmont 2 yard line, the 51 yard drive came to a sudden halt as the Grossmont defenders would not give. The Foothillers drove the Vaqueros back and gained possession of the ball on downs on their own 10 yard line.

MATADORS ROLL

Mt. Miguel and Helix clashed in the fourth quarter finale and the Matadors, who are very inexperienced this year delighted the West supporters with a 91 yard touchdown drive in 8 plays against the Scots. Halfback Joe Williams scored the touchdown from the 1 yard line giving the West a 19-6 advantage. The PAT failed and the score remained 19-6 with the West on top.

Helix hit the scoring volumn after recovering a Matador fumble on the Miguel 27. A running play netted 5 yards and on the following play quarterback Tom Van Dyke passed 22 yards to George Engle for the touchdown. Bill Burnett booted the PAT giving the East 13 points to the West's 19. The Matador touchdown proved to be the winning margin for the charges representing the West.

Women To Go In Mission Valley Golf Tourney

There's some difference of opinion on the winning pro score of the Mickey Wright Invitational Pro-amateur tournament starting Sept. 28, for a foud-day run, at San Diego's Mission Valley Country Club.

Miss Wright, the U.S. Woman's Open and Ladies PGA queen, for whom the tournament is named, believes the winning lady pro will shoot something between 281 and 285. That's well under par 72 for the Mission Valley links, or 288 for four rounds.

Others believe the gals will have to shoot to break 290.

The lady pros—33 will be in action at Mission Valley—consistently fire in the low 70s on their nationwide tour. Miss Wright had a 69, for example, on the rugged Baltusrol, N.J., links last summer when she captured the Open title.

Other leading contenders at Mission Valley will be Betsy Rawls, Jackie Pung, Mary Lena Faulk, Kathy Cornelius, Patty Berg and Barbara Romack.

Bank Again Offers Bowl Bank Service

For the third consecutive year, Security First National Bank will be offering its exclusive Bowleague Banking Service for the convenience of Southland bowling leagues, Carl E. Hartnack, senior vice president, San Diego division announced today.

"Bowleague has been designed to simplify the handling of league funds, and any bowling center proprietor or manager can offer his leagues the advantages of the service at the nearest Security Branch," Hartnack said.

Bowleague accounts, which are used mainly for league fees, prize money and entry fees, can be opened by individual leagues if their bowling house does not participate in the plan, he pointed out.

The 18-year-old soldier attended Chula Vista High School.

TV Goes To School

SDSC Classes To Be Instructed Over Closed-Circuit Television

Twelve classes in freshman psychology at San Diego State will be taught over the campus closed circuit television during the fall semester.

The classes will meet in rooms in the Humanities-Social Sciences Building and in the Campus Laboratory School. The instructor will speak from the studio in the radio-television section of the speech arts department. His lecture and demonstrations will be broadcast over the campus closed circuit television system which is now wired to reach 55 different classrooms.

The purpose of the program, according to Dr. Donald R. Watson, Dean of the College, is to test television as a way in which an instructor might reach larger numbers of students—and do it more effectively.

Television can for example, he said, introduce guest speakers—show demonstrations and close-ups that would never be feasible in 24 separate classrooms.

Dr. Watson said that Psychology I, the course involved in the experiment, is required of all lower division students. In all, some 24 classes in this subject will be taught during the fall semester. Under previous conditions, this required a large team of specialized psychology faculty members to devote their time to preparing lectures and conducting each class individually. Should the televised instructional program be effective, Watson said, some members of the psychology staff could devote greater time to other classes and to research.

Each televised program is scripted and rehearsed in advance. The 12 classes participating in the test program will meet twice during the week for a televised lecture, and once during the week for a discussion period.

During the discussion periods a faculty member will develop individual topics related to the televised lecture which the students will then explore in considerable depth.

The conduct of the televised program is in the hands of Dr. Lark O. Daniel, associate professor of psychology. Assisting Daniel is Dr. Robert Harrison, associate professor of psychology.

Four of the victories the Padres gained over Vancouver this season were chalked up by Southpaw Gary Peters, who beat the Mounties, 3-1, to complete a big year against them.

EASEMENTS:

Easements to be acquired include those adjacent to streets for construction of embankment slopes or excavation slopes and easements for the extension of drainage structures beyond the property lines of the streets to be improved, as generally shown on plat herein above referred to.

All of the said work hereinbefore generally described shall be constructed in the manner, to the grades, at the locations, within the limits, of the materials, and of the dimensions as shown upon and in accordance with the plans, profiles, drawings, typical cross-sections and specifications therefor, contained in Document No. 306887, on file in the office of the Clerk of said Board of Supervisors and copies of which are on file in the office of said Engineer, and by this reference thereto, all said plans, profiles, drawings, typical cross-sections and specifications are made a part hereof. For a detailed description of the easements and rights of way to be acquired, reference is made to the aforementioned plans, drawings and specifications.

The said Board of Supervisors hereby determines and declares that serial bonds shall be issued to represent each assessment of Fifty Dollars ($50) or more remaining unpaid after the full expiration of thirty (30) days from the date of recordation of the warrant, to represent the expenses of said work and improvement. Said serial bonds shall extend over a period ending nine (9) years from the second day of January next succeeding the next September first following their date, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable, by coupon, on the second day of January every year following the next September first after their date until the whole is paid. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum, interest payable semi-annually, by coupon, on all sums unpaid until the whole of said principal and interest is paid; and said bonds shall provide that if said bonds are redeemed before maturity and before commencement of proceedings for sale, in addition to all other sums unpaid and accrued, a premium of five percent (5%) of the unpaid principal shall be paid. Such bonds shall be issued and the principal, interest and premium shall be paid under and in pursuance of the Improvement Act of 1911 and amendments thereto.

The contemplated work and improvement hereinbefore mentioned is, in the opinion of said Board of Supervisors, of more than local and ordinary benefit to the public and the expenses of such work and improvement are made chargeable upon the district hereinafter described, and said Board of Supervisors does hereby declare said district to be the district benefited by said work and improvement, and to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof. Said district is described as follows, to wit: all that real property in the County of San Diego included within the exterior boundary lines of said district as shown upon that certain map bearing number 6051 indicating the exterior boundary lines of such district, which map, approved by said Board of Supervisors, is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Board of Supervisors and County of San Diego as Document No. 306886, excepting therefrom all public streets, roads, alleys, avenues and highways. Reference is hereby made to the map for a full and complete description of the assessment district and the map shall govern for all details as to the extent of the assessment district.

The said Board of Supervisors has heretofore directed the Superintendent of Streets in accordance with Section 5254.5 of the Streets and Highways Code to include in the contract a provision for liquidated damages in case the work called for under the contract is not completed within the time limit as prescribed by the specifications and contract (or such extension of time as may be granted by said Board), and has fixed the sum of $400.00 per day for each and every calendar day's delay in completing the work in excess of the number of calendar days prescribed.

It is the opinion of said Board of Supervisors that the public interest will not be served by allowing the property owners to take the contract for the work to be done under these proceedings.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Tuesday, the 3rd day of October, 1961, at 11:00 o'clock a.m., in the chamber of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Digeo, Room 310, City and County Administration Building, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, California, any and all persons having any objections to the proposed work or improvement, to the grade at which said work is to be done, or to the extent of the district to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of said proposed work or improvement, may appear before said Board of Supervisors and show cause why said proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with this Resolution.

Such protest, if any, must be in writing and must contain a description of the property in which each signer thereof is interested, sufficient to identify the same, and shall be delivered to and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Diego, Galley 3 — Resolution of Intention in Room 306 of said City and County Administration Building, not later than the hour hereinabove set for hearing. No other protests or objections will be considered.

The Clerk of this Board of Supervisors is hereby directed to cause this Resolution of Intention to be published twice in the Spring Valley Bulletin, the newspaper hereby designated for that purpose by this Board.

The Clerk of this Board of Supervisors is hereby directed to mail notice of the adoption of this Resolution of Intention, postage prepaid, to all persons owning real property proposed to be assessed, whose names and addresses appear on the last equalized County Assessment Roll, or as known to said Clerk, all in the time, form and manner required by law; if property assessed by the State under Section 14 of Article XIII of the Constitution is proposed to be assessed, such notice shall be mailed to every owner of such property at the address thereof shown on the last board roll transmitted to the County Auditor as required by Section 5070, Streets and Highways Code.

The Clerk of this Board of Supervisors shall, upon completion of the mailing of said notices, file with this Board an affidavit setting forth time and manner of the compliance with the above requirements for mailing such notices.

Helix Irrigation District May Spend Twice As Much To Have Assembly Building With Fallout Shelter

Raymond Lee Eggers, a La Mesa architect, has informed the Helix Irrigation District's board that the cost of building the District's proposed assembly building underground would be $40,911.00. This cost is slightly more than twice the cost of constructing the 54 x 38 foot building above ground. The building was budgeted for this fiscal year at $20,055.00.

Board action to accept or reject the idea of a dual purpose building was postponed until this week. If approved, the building would serve as an assembly hall and fall out shelter.

In another action, the Board instructed the District's staff to prepare a letter of intent to the proponents for the information of the Lake Cuyamaca Recreation and Park District. The letter will convey the Board's willingness to enter into an agreement that will be negotiated on a fair and equitable basis that is not in any way detrimental to the District's interest.

The proponents for the Recreation District requested this letter to "form the basis of public information for the benefit of the voters within the proposed District."

State Department Hunting Diplomatic Clerical Workers

"Who can deny that America needs qualified individuals to represent it abroad?" This question was posed by a Personnel Officer of the U.S. Department of State who will be in San Diego interviewing young men and women for clerical and secretarial positions in the Foreign Service and in Washington, D.C.

"We are in search of a particular type of person," said Mr. Devin Carroll of the Department of State. "We need people who are sincerely interested in helping to cement the bonds of friendship between the nations and who will derive their greatest satisfaction from representing their country abroad. They must be of such character that they can adjust to new and strange ways and be capable of living in areas where isolation and adverse climatic and living conditions tend to make life most uncomfortable."

Mr. Carroll will be conducting interviews in San Diego at the California State Employment Service office, 1730 Kettner Blvd., from Oct. 2 through Oct. 7. Office hours will be 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily and Tuesday evening until 7 o'clock, and Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon.

'Coins Wanted Ads' Bad, Says BBB

The National Better Business Bureau, Inc., located in New York, has sent a release to all news media warning of a coin catalog scheme being advertised in various publications.

The ads usually carry a title such as "$300,000,000 Search For Rare Coins." The Better Business Bureau says the advertising is deceptive because of the extreme rarity of coins wanted. The gimmick is that promoters sell coin catalogs.

A coin wanted by one advertiser is a "large cent" of 1793 for which he offers $10,000. Authorities say there are one to three such coins in existence and all are accounted for.

Lemon Grovers Making Baja California Kids Happy

Two Lemon Grove people carry out an international relations campaign of their own. They are Dr. Amorita Treganza, local woman child optometrist, and Art Berry, owner of LG Sporting Goods; their efforts have benefited Mexican children in the Baja California towns of San Felipe, El Golfo and Tiajuana.

On Thursday of last week they met in Berry's store (see picture) to look over once-discarded balls that Dr. Treganza had given him to repair. The bouncy kickballs, basketballs and tetherballs soon will be taken South on one of Dr. Treganza's frequent goodwill trips.

Berry and Dr. Treganza who also takes charity cases from Mexico into her office, have been partners in the venture for five years.

Dr. Treganza said that she and her husband take other items, such as school writing paper, clothing and toys, along with the balls. She speaks Spanish fluently and therefore is at home with the people.

"'When we arrive at San Felipe," she said, "they stop school. Our truck is recognized from a distance and all the kids in the school team up to welcome us and help with the unloading. We get the feeling they love us and this makes the effort worth while."

Although Berry's main par in the venture is giving of his time and equipment to patch up the balls, he regularly contributes locally, too, such as donating sports equipment to the little leagues and to hospitals and orphanages.

Now he will donate space in his warehouse, he pointed out for storing any items local people might wish to contribute to Mexican children. Anyone wishing to contribute may drop things off at his store at 780 Broadway in LG. Or they may call Dr. Treganza at HO 9-344 for information.

She said she believes that the international venture is very helpful toward furthering understanding and goodwill. "It is a hands-across-the-border gesture from Lemon Grove," she said.

The Preliminary Scholarshi Aptitude test, taken on a voluntary basis only, will be administered October 17 at $1 per student. Through this test, the student can determine how he will do on his college entrance exam.

On November 15, 16, and 17 eleventh grade students not planning to attend college will be given the GATV.

Another preliminary college entrance exam will be taken by interested students in December, January, April or March. (Students have their choice of date). The fee will be $7.50.

Schools Receive Money To Use For Gifted Minors

Ten school districts in San Diego County have received word of an advance apportionment for mentally gifts minors.

The new law passed by the 1961 Legislature provides for special educational programs for mentally gifted minors and authorizes reimbursement from State School Fund for excess expense not to exceed $40 per pupil per school year.

During the next two fiscal years the State Controller shall deduct from apportionments made to these districts an amount equal to the amount now advanced to each district.

Two districts receiving apportionments and amounts are Grossmont Union High, $8,800, and La Mesa-Spring Valley $24,240.

Helix PTA Starting Membership Drive

Mrs. William Beasley, membership chairman of Helix High PTA announces that Oct. 2 through Oct. 6 will be PTA membership week. During this drive Mrs. Beasley encourages all parents to join their respective units. Each parent may become a member for only $1. The fee covers one or more students attending Helix High School.

For those who wonder at the increase in dues, it is explained that it is in lieu of money-raising projects during the school year. Ways and means activities to build the budget have been abolished.

Membership funds will be used in part for three scholarships to San Diego State College at a minimum cost of $75 per scholarship, and a generous addition to the Student Welfare Fund. If the return on the drive is good the PTA can increase each scholarship to $102 which is the actual cost, according to Mrs. Peter Zacchino, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Beasley will meet with her volunteers Sept. 27 at 9:30 a.m. for the purpose of mailing membership letters to parents of Helix High students. Attached to each letter will be convenient membership envelopes which should be returned with the dues inclosed. The unit aims for 100 per cent.

Miguel students for their enjoyment and participation. Mel Grant, principal, will explain the curricula, new and old, and Bud Carey, senior and student body president, will comment on his duties and the functions of the Associated Student Body.

This program will be of particular interest to parents of freshmen and new students. All parents and teachers are welcome, and are urged to join the parent-teacher movement during the membership drive week from Oct. 2 through 6.

Kawinis Speaker

Grossmont College Dean Reveals Significant Educational Figures

Larry Coons, dean of admission and guidance at the new Grossmont Junior College, in speaking before the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club recently said that registrations of California students seeking higher education in the state, leads the nation. He said that right here at the new Grossmont Junior College, registrations far exceeded the expected amount. He pointed out that there were 728 persons registering, who are over 21 years of age; one woman being in her 70's. He said that in 1962 an 85 per cent increase is expected and that already some of the existing facilities are inadequate.

He said that junior colleges have been established to bring "higher education closer to home." He pointed out that World War II returnees caused a problem for higher education, many of them wanting to become teachers and other professionals, but facing extremely limited college facilities.

He said the State Legislature finally conceived a Master Plan for higher education and that it has been determined a junior college education costs far less than anticipated. Last year, Coons said, there were 103,000 (full time) students registered in 67 California junior colleges. There are five such colleges in San Diego County, Coons said.

Coons said the California junior colleges prepare students to go on to the Universities of California, which is "tops" in the field of research.

Asked what it costs to send a student to Grossmont Junior College, Coons replied, "there is no tuition fee." He said it costs from $600 to $700 per year, per pupil, the money coming out of local taxes and state money. However, Coons pointed out, if a person outside the Grossmont District, desires to attend the local junior college, his district must pay a tuition fee.

Coons urged that everyone go to the polls on Oct. 10 and vote for the Grossmont Junior College as we are obligated to our children. He said the college might be built right here in Spring Valley.

William Schell, principal of the new Highlands Elementary School, who was present at the Kiwanis meeting, said there is urgent need in this area for professional women (particularly in the nursing field) who have raised their families and who desire to return to their profession. He said many of these women have a fear of returning to their jobs, after being away for several years. He said the junior college could be the answer to their problem.

This year's drive will continue until Oct. 9 and will be the main source of funds for the 1962 campaign. Smith said, "All Democrats should get behind their party and contribute to the effort to the best of their ability." Smith lives in La Mesa and is a local insurance man.

Civil Defense: A Series

What Emergency Action Will Save Lives

(This paper would like to hear of any Civil Defense measures being taken by people in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area.)

If you have not yet had first aid training, here are a few important ways to help the injured. The person may still need attention from a trained first-aider after you have taken these emergency actions. He may need further treatment by a physician at the earliest possible moment. Meanwhile these actions may serve to keep an injured member of your family alive until help arrives. Do not move an injured victim at all unless he is in danger of further serious injury if left where he is.

One way to find out a victim's condition is to look at his face. If it is red, he may have a skull fracture or serious head injury. If his face is white, he may be suffering from shock caused by bleeding, burns, broken bones, crushing injuries, or by extreme nervous tension or fright. If his lips and fingernails are blue, he may be suffocating, or he may be in shock.

PROCEDURE

1. To learn more about saving lives, have at least one member of your family take a complete first aid course of the kind given free by the American National Red Cross or the U. S. Department of Interior, Bureau of Mines. Don't wait for an enemy attack before getting interested in first aid. Bad accidents and local disasters happen every day, and they could involve your family at any time.

2. You should have a first aid kit and know how to use it. For a complete list of supplies needed, get the OCDM leaflet, L—12, First Aid: Emergency Kit, Emergency Action from your local civil defense director. Keep a copy with your first aid kit. Appoint one member of your family to obtain the necessary first aid supplies and store the kit in or near your home shelter.

BLEEDING TREATMENT

3. For serious bleeding first get the victim to lie down and remain quiet. Try to stop the bleeding by pressing a cloth pad directly on the wound itself. Towels, sheets, or anything else at hand can be used for emergency pads. If possible, they should be clean. If not, use what you have. Bind the cloth in place.

If the bleeding doesn't stop, use more pads and more pressure.

The important thing is to stop the bleeding, and direct pressure on a wound very often will do it.

4. Don't use grease, oil, salve, or anything else on a bad burn. Simply cover the burned area with a clean, dry compress or pad of cloth. In an emergency you can use strips torn from a sheet, a towel, a pillowcase, or anything similar.

Use several layers of cloth, arranged smoothly, to make a pad. Cover every part of the burn. Bind the pad in place with a bandage, not too tightly, but snugly enough so air will be kept out. Once the bandage is on, don't disturb it. Let it alone until a physician can treat the burned person.

5. If it is absolutely necessary to move a victim with a broken bone, first put a splint on the fracture.

A splint is usually a piece of wood secured to the victim so that the ends of the broken one cannot move. In an emergency it can be anything from a thick bundle of folded newspapers to a broom handle. Splints should be long enough to reach beyond the joints above and below the break. Pad each splint heavily by wrapping it in cloth to make the patient more comfortable.

To apply a splint, lay it alongside the broken arm or leg, then tie it snugly in place above and below the break. Tie it in enough places so the broken bone cannot move. Do not tie too tightly, or you may cut off the blood supply or injure the nerves. Put padding under the ties all the way around the limb.

6. Severe shock brings unconsciousness. If the shock is very deep, it can produce death. Severe shock should be treated by a physician, but you can take emergency action while awaiting professional care.

The first steps are to keep the victim lying down, and to wrap him warmly. Use whatever you have at hand to keep him warm, but don't let him get overheated. If the patient perspires too much, his condition will get worse.

The victim's head should be level with or lower than his body. However, if there is a head injury, raise the head slightly.

First aid for mild shock victims should include the use of a saline solution made from 1 teaspoonful salt, ½ teaspoonful bicarbonate of soda, and a quart of water. The saline solution should be given to such shock victims only upon the advice of a physician, nurse, or trained leader of a first aid team. In cases of severe shock, saline solution given by mouth may cause casualties to vomit and choke. Casualties with abdominal injuries should never be given saline solutions to drink.

Casualties who are in mild shock may be given as much saline solution to drink as they want.

Don't give saline solution to unconscious or semiconscious casualties.

7. Suffocation can result from pressure on the neck or chest, as when the victim is pinned down by wreckage. It also can be caused by inhaling dust, dirt, smoke, or gas. Contact with a live electric wire may paralyze the nervous system which controls breathing. Drowning persons are victims of suffocation.

The first emergency action when a person is suffocating is to get him away from the cause. Then start some form of artificial respiration as soon as possible. The mouth-to-mouth (or mouth-to-nose) technique of artificial respiration is a good method to use.

There are variations of the mouth-to-mouth (or mouth-to-nose) technique. Therefore, the best way to learn this method and other manual methods of artificial respiration is from a trained Red Cross first aid instructor. Have the member of your family who was assigned to take first aid training demonstrate artificial respiration as soon as possible.

PRACTICE

1. Make sure that everyone in your family knows the basic things to do for bleeding, burns, shock, broken bones, and suffocation. At least one of the family should take a first aid course.

2. Rehearse first aid techniques in your home, using different "victims," and give each member of the family a chance to attain some skill for use in emergency.

3. See to it that everyone in your family understands that an injured person should not be moved by an untrained person except to save his life from fire, flood, or similar danger.

Parent Education Class Teaches All About Kids

A class in Parent Education is being offered to local mothers beginning Friday morning, Sept. 29. The class meets on Friday mornings from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m. at Collier Park in La Mesa.

Mrs. Edith Boutwell, who has been a teacher for many years is instructing the class. Childcare is provided at the park's playground area.

This is the only class of its kind and is an excellent opportunity for those interested to learn about children from birth through teens. The lectures offer everything and anything pertaining to children while in the process of becoming adults. Discussion periods will also be included in the course.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Robert Carbonneau at HO 6-5038.

Fast Sheriff's Work Brings Quick Arrest

Three San Diego men were arrested last week for allegedly stripping personal belongings from the house of Lt. Cmdr. (ret.) David Eugene Rochestein at 1865 El Dora st., L.G.

The men were listed as John Edward Gary, 23, Marquis Eugene Hyden, 29, and Earl Fay Coon, 18, all of 3955 7th ave. The sheriff's department charged that they burglarized the Rochestein home while the occupants were away from home three hours during the early evening of Sept. 20. The men were arrested within 15 minutes of the discovery.

Rochestein told sheriff's deputies that he noticed a bright red, old model car parked near his house when he returned home and found the door open and the contents of the house disturbed. One of the suspects ran from the yard while Mrs. Rochestein was obtaining the license number of the suspect's car. The suspects were stopped within a mile of the Rochestein house and a search revealed articles later identified by Rochestein as his own.

Missing from the loot are a pair of topaz earrings, two bottles of after-shave lotion, and a ladies' Elgin wrist watch. The earrings have a great sentimental value, Rochestein said.

The Rochesteins said a reward would be given for the return of the earrings. Finders may contact Detective Jim Moore at the El Cajon sheriff's station or Cmdr. Rochestein.

During a follow-up investigation enough property was turned up to indicate that the men might have been involved in a series of burglaries.

The men were placed in County Jail and charged with burglary.

Grossmont College To Have Stiffer Policy On Grades

Staying in Grossmont College will take a little harder work than at many junior colleges in California.

Dean of instruction Charles C. Collins pointed out today that students at Grossmont must maintain an overall 'C average. At the end of the first semester those who drop below this average will go on probation, or, if the deficiency is flagrant, may be disqualified.

"A student has one semester in which to show his capability and his motivation," Collins said.

Most junior colleges require less than a C average, and some simply accept D as a passing grade, Collins noted.

One advantage of the C average requirement to the student, the dean said, lies in the fact that any graduate of Grossmont can transfer to a state college, whether or not he intended to go on to upper collegiate work at the time he enrolled. In some cases the state college might require certain makeup courses, but at least there would be no admission problem.

He is survived by his wife, Josephine, of the Spring Valley address.

Beyond All Expectations

Facilities At Monte Vista Loaded After College Enrolls Record 1,538

At the conclusion of late enrollment Sat., Sept. 16, 1,538 students had enrolled for the 1961 fall semester at Grossmont College. The enrollment total is considerably more then any enrollment estimates which had been made for this newly established junior college serving the Grossmont district.

The enrollment total, which includes 884 students enrolled in the day program and 654 who are enrolled in the extended day (evening) program, results in full occupancy of the present shared facilities at the new Monte Vista High School campus, at 3230 Sweetwater Springs blvd., Spring Valley, according to Laurance E. Coons, Dean of Admissions and Guidance.

"The unexpectedly large enrollment of students for Grossmont College's first semester of operation undoubtedly presages rapidly increasing future enrollments," Dean Coons added. A previous analysis of enrollment trends issued by Grossmont College officials had predicted a 76 per cent enrollment from the fall of 1961 to the fall of 1962.

Other figures relating to present Grossmont College enrollment follow: Students in first semester of college attendance—1,009; Second semester—136; Third semester — 205; Fourth semester—75; Beyond 4th semester—113; Men—1,048; Women—490; Under 21 years of age—810; 21 or over—728; Full time students (12 units or more)—634; Part time students (less than 12 units)—904.

Musicians Sought By Army Bands

The Army Bandmasters of Fort MacArthur and Fort Irwin, California this week sent out an urgent appeal to the Army Recruiting Service to enlist qualified bandsmen desiring local assignment.

Local young men with a musical background may apply for duty with either band according to M/Sgt. Edward R. Edwards, Army Recruiter for the La Mesa area.

Sgt. Edwards said "Although the Army provides excellent training for individuals assigned to band duty, it requires that they have a minimum of two years prior experience in playing one of the brass, woodwind, or percussion instruments." Call HO 3-3114 for information.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The Lemon Grove Coordinating Council, after surveying Civil Defense requirements, has adopted the following objectives and needs.

Our objectives are based entirely on a flexible plan designed for preparedness in case it is impossible or undesirable to evacuate. The existing Civil Defense program does not cover this contingency.

The primary concern is for the safety of the children. This presents an unusual problem in the event the attack should occur during school hours. Then many mothers would find their children located at various schools. We propose to make available shelters at all school playgrounds to provide safety and supervised care for the children.

This proposed plan will have another advantage in that it will encourage the private citizen to build his own shelter. Until now, many have been frustrated in this endeavor because of the possibility of being crowded out by neighbors they could not refuse. Individual responsibility for private shelters must continue, as the above propram does not dispense with private shelters, but only supplements them.

We plan to reduce the cost of mass shelters to $25 or less per person as opposed to the cost of a private shelter which is approximately $500 per person.

We need skilled volunteers to plan, design, and supervise the construction of the mass shelters. Also people skilled in communications are needed to intregrate activities and provide information concerning missing persons. There is a need for personal identification tags, especially for the young or those who for some reason could not identify themselves. A careful record will have to be kept as to the names of each person in a given shelter. In addition a health coordinator should assign physicians and related health personnel to specific jobs at specific locations.

We urge all citizens of San Diego County to write to lawmakers on the State, County, and Federal level, urging them to stockpile supplies.

All volunteers should call the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Dennis McLaughlin
L.G. Coordinating Council
3448 Main St. (C. of C. Bldg.) L.G.

Dear Editor:

Some shot was scattered into my area of activity by Grandma R. Graham's verbal blast that you published Sept. 21 in which the charge was made that "the same characters are always against something" in every school election, and in which an invitation was extended to voters to "get true facts and information from people who have no axes to grind."

My wife complains that I am the only participant in these campaigns who isn't attempting to get his own ax ground as a result of his personal activities. Nevertheless, I am opposing something that will be voted on in the Oct. 10 special school election.

This will be the first, and I hope the only, time that I have to vote "no" in an election on a school building bond proposition in my activities to attain good practical education programs needed in our districts. Heretofore I have voted "yes" in many school bond elections, and have encouraged fellow electors to do likewise. In fact, I am going to vote "yes" on one of the bond propositions in this forthcoming election also.

Following are my criteria for a school building bond proposition to merit a "yes" vote:

1. Need: classroom deficiency present or imminent. 2. Location: site to be where needed by students. 3. Transportation not required for urban students. 4. Tax for school building: no increase in rate or property in district. 5. Tax for school operation: no resultant increase in rate on property in district.

All of the foregoing criteria are present, relative to the high school bond proposition, therefore it merits a "yes" vote. Despite prominent propaganda with which this statement may conflict, none of these criteria are present, relative to the junior college bond proposition on the October 10 ballot, therefore it merits a "no" vote. I am going to cast my vote on the basis of these merits, and urge fellow electors to do likewise.

Yours from a fellow elector who is foremost proponent of a local grade 13 and 14 education program for those who need it and want it, whose residence is within walking distance of the proposed Jamacha junior college site but further from the proposed Santee high school site than from any other high school site in the Grossmont District, whose decisions are based on "true facts" (personal files are bulging with them), and whose ax will not get ground as a result of the Oct. 10 election regardless of its outcome.

Roger F. Winchester
Mexican Canyon, Jamacha

Dear Editor:

For some time a number of the citizens of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District have individually urged General Miller, Captain Hardin and myself to take action in curtailing the inefficient and extravagant school administration. We suggested to these taxpayers that they discuss this matter with the Board of Education. They attended the School Board meetings and objected to the present extravagant policies without results. They indicated that the School Board of Education was merely acting as a rubber stamp for the School Administration.

It was decided that the only possible solution was the removal of Superintendent Murdock and his over staffed and over paid administration, and replace them with an administration who would be interested in Education and not Empire Building.

We expect over-whelming support from the parents, taxpayers and teachers for the enclosed petition asking the School oBard to remove Superintendent Murdock, which should make it necessary for the Board of Education to take action.

M. G. Snodgrass

Dear Editor:

This letter is a response to your editorial of September 21, 1961. I feel in general your newspaper has made a real contribution to the life of the community, but I fail to see any constructive purpose that this John Birch-flavored editorial can make. You make the assertion that there are probably Communists in our State Department and cite the General Walker incident as evidence. Your charge that he was relieved from his post because of "excessive patriotism" is nothing but a smoke screen because the official charge was violation of the Hatch Act. This act makes it illegal for any officer to dictate to his men how they should vote in an election. Is it patriotic, Mr. Goodwin, for a Commanding officer to tell his subordinates how to vote?

Another and equally important reason was the slander he was spreading about Truman and other ex-presidents being Communist agents or "comosymps" as Mr. Welsh calls them. If tearing down confidence our armed forces have in our United States Government is "excessive patriotism," perhaps you had better re-educate us as to the true meaning of the term.

As a pastor and educator in the community, I feel a sense of responsibility for what I tell our people. I hope in the future this same sense of responsibility will be exercised by your newspaper. Our country has enough to fight without being incited to fight each other.

Sincerely,
James A. King

Two More Local Youths Join Army

The Army recruiting office in La Mesa announces that two more local youth enlisted under the regular Army's Guaranteed Program. One is James Ervin Rymer, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Holt of 7830 Deborah place., Lemon Grove. Rymer, known to his many friends as Jim Holt, graduated from Mt. Miguel High School last June. He chose radio and carrier repair. The other is Robert Eugene Walker, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs Joseph Walker, 1009 Broadview, S.V. He has chosen the utilities field to learn a trade.

According to MSgt. Edward R. Edwards, station commander of the La Mesa office, limited openings for October exist in automotive maintenance, overseas assignments, missiles, airborne, administration, Army security agency, military police, construction and utilities, radio, combat engineering, armor, telephone outside plant maintenance, supply, motor transport, infantry, medical care and several others on a first come-first served basis. Those found qualified and who enlisted during October are urged to contact MSgts. Edwards or Meiss at 8101 La Mesa Blvd., or call HO 3-3114 for an interview appointment.

WORKING LIFE for U. S. males was recently determined to be an average 42.3 years.

Social Security Question Box

By Dirk Smith, Area Social Security Representative.

Readers are invited to submit any questions they have on Social Security to Dirk Smith, c/o this newspaper. Readers will still get answers to their questions even if the questions are not used in this column.

QUESTION: I am a widow 63 years old. My husband died 3 years ago and my problem pertaining to social security is as follows: when my husband died, I tried to draw survivors' benefits from his social security but my claim was denied because he lacked one more calendar working quarter. Could you tell me if I'm now eligible for payments and, if so, will my local social security office notify me as to this?

ANSWER: If you were told that your husband only lacked one quarter, then you no doubt will be able to receive benefits now, under the new law. However, the benefits will not start automatically - you will have to get in touch with your local social security office and file a new application. Bring your husband's social security card, some proof of your age and your marriage certificate in with you.

QUESTION: My wife broke her back in October, 1953, and after several months in a cast, and the back not healing properly, she has been unable to work since that time. She's now 47. Is she entitled to apply for social security benefits?

ANSWER: Very possibly. However, in addition to being disabled, your wife must have worked in jobs where she paid social security tax. She would need about five years work in the 10 years before she became disabled to qualify for benefits. We would suggest that she get in touch with the nearest social security office and file her application.

Bark beetles usually work in trees that are unhealthy and it is therefore important to do all you can to improve the general health of the trees by feeding them and toning them up with a reliable trace element product, as well as to destroy the beetles.

EMERGENCY TREATMENT

You can check their damage at the present time by treating the tree with the ethylene dichloride product which I have referred to previously in this column. Squirt the material into the holes in the bark with the applicator on top of the can; or saturate a piece of cotton and push it through the holes. The ether fumes will destroy the bark beetles whenever it is in their vicinity.

Later, in about December, you can use this same material again, diluting it this time and pouring it into the soil around the base of the trees where it will destroy a great many more of these beetles which, at that time, will be in a state of hibernation.

Planners Nix Rundell's Sign

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A zoning variance to permit a sign for a L.G. service station was denied Friday by the County Planning Commission.

The applicant was Bob Rundell, as trustee for owners of a site on the south side of Broadway, 500 feet west of Washington street. His request, to be allowed to put a sign 40 and a half feet, instead of the required 75 feet, from the center line of Broadway had been before the commission for two months.

Action was put off twice before, although two committees that studied the area recommended that the request be denied.

News of Spring Valley Estates, Mt. Miguel Terrace and La Presa

by Elaine Horowitz
HO 3-5393

Doesn't Anyone Care About Quality Of SV Education?

Not one person with whom I've spoken about the bond and tax election coming up on October 10, has asked about the quality of education in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District. This seems to be of no concern to them. Yet, these same people will ask for recommendations before taking their children to a doctor, dentist or even a dancing school. Certainly, a child spends enough time under the guidance of a teacher, who has been hired by the district, to warrant inquiries, and this should be the most important factor in this coming election.

A child graduating from the 8th grade in our district, is one and one half years above the national grade norms. This is because your child goes to school in a district recognized by state experts as being superior. This, in turn, is because of the special services supplied by the district.

"EXTRAS" ARE NEEDS

Some time ago I heard a highly respected member of the business world expound on the extravagances of the district, especially at the Education Center. I checked into these extras he spoke about that cost so much and were not needed, and found they were such things as the audio-visual tools which are used to help our children, the remedial reading service provided those who need it. At the same time it came out that this same person who was "blowing off steam" about the extravagances of the district, sends his children to a private school without considering this an extravagance, because they provide so many extras.

There are ways of cutting costs. Hire the lowest paid and least experienced teachers you can find. Double up on classes. You can even cut out the education center completely. A lot of money would be saved, but it's like that old joke, "The operation was a success, but the patient died." We have quality education here, and in order to maintain it, this election must win.

CLOTHING DRIVE GOING

The Spring Valley Welfare clothing drive is under way and will continue until Sept. 29. Fill the bags your child brings home from school with any good, used clothing you can spare, and know that someone who really needs it, thanks you.

PTAs GETTING READY FOR MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Membership week for Parent-Teacher Associations has been designated as Oct. 2-6. Right now there are women at work setting the wheels in motion to induce you to join. It takes a lot of planning, time and energy on their part, and no effort on yours. The cost is 50 cents per person, for a year's membership. At Avondale your 50c will help towards the milk and lunch fund, the Christmas party being sponsored by the PTA for your children, the health programs planned, the PTA library being setup for your use, to name just a few plans for the year. Don't wait to be coaxed. We need your help, so that we can help you.

AVONDALE PTA MEETING

The Avondale PTA executive board will meet on Oct. 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the conference room at Avondale. Plans for the dedication ceremonies for the new additions to Avondale School will be the main topic.

DEAR MR. MURDOCK. . .

Just thought you'd like to know that there are many parents of children going to school and of children already graduated from schools in your district, who appreciate your 15 years of service as superintendent in the La Mesa-Spring Valley school district. The fact that you were able to grow in scope as our district grew, without lowering the high standards of education we want for our children, and you feel our children should have, makes us proud you stayed with us all these years.

We wonder if people who are so fast to criticize, destructively, such as the Misters Snodgrass, Hardin and Miller, can look back on the last 15 years with as much pride in accomplishment.

Here's hoping you'll continue in the future as you've done in the past, but with more cooperation from the people you're trying to help.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY ELECTED

The result of the election of officers for the Spring Valley Little League Women's Auxiliary were: president, Mrs. Norma Faulstitch; vice pres., Mrs. Marge Mourning, secretary, Mrs. Goertemiller; treasurer, Mrs. Donna Favorite; ways and means, Mrs. Betty Mingus.

Highlands PTA Sets Membership Drive

Under the leadership of Mrs. Gerald Fuller, membership chairman, Highlands Elementary PTA members are hard at work preparing for the membership drive. The children will bring home membership envelopes on Fri., Sept. 29 and the drive starts Mon., Oct. 2 and ends Fri., Oct. 6.

Each room will have a realistic paper mache beehive and each child will be given a bee made of pipe cleaners and crepe paper to place on the beehive for their membership, according to Mrs. Richard L. Thompson, publicity chairman. A poster in the school office will show percentage of membership in each room and reflecting changes daily, she said.

Ninth District Parents and Teachers, Inc., is giving an award to all schools with 100 per cent membership.

Pair Buys Montgomery's Liquor Shop

The sale of Montgomery's Liquor at 7779 Broadway, L.G. was announced this week by Ed Montgomery who has operated the establishment for the past 12 years.

The firm was sold to Emmett Marshall and Charles Montgomery, the son of the former owner. Both have lived in L.G. 12 years.

Parents and Taxpayers
La Mesa Spring Valley School District

Most of us moved to the La Mesa Spring Valley School District so our children could attend GOOD SCHOOLS. The District has maintained one of the best records of all elementary school districts in the nation. The measures up to you and me October 10 must pass in order to maintain GOOD SCHOOLS. If they fail, real estate values will drop because many will be moving out of the district instead of moving into the district.

If the tax measure fails to pass, the rate will drop to $.90 instead of the present $1.70, which is below the average of all elementary districts within the State of California of comparable size. We must increase the maximum rate to $1.97 in order to keep GOOD SCHOOLS. It will then become the responsibility of the Board of Education to hold the cost to the lowest possible cost and give us GOOD SCHOOLS. The cost will be only a few dollars for each of us each year - instead of the savings of a few dollars each year at the expense of a lower level of education for our children. The class load is now 35 and has to be lowered instead of increased.

I want GOOD SCHOOLS, GOOD TEACHERS, GOOD ADMINISTRATORS. We have them - let us keep them.

Vote yes on October 10 on all measures.

Sincerely,

Henry A. Boney
Chairman
Citizens Committee to Keep Good Schools

News and Views from Spring Valley

Grow-w-th Of South Valley Attributed To Happy People

South Spring Valley continues to grow, grow and GROW. And the cause of growth is people; people who work right here in the area, and people who work elsewhere, but are happy to own a home in Spring Valley.

New businesses, professional units and organizations seem to spring up overnight. Our newest service club is the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club which meets in the SV Chamber of Commerce hall each Wednesday at 7 a.m. It, like the Lions Club, is concentrating a lot of effort on the needs of the youth of our area, feeling that the youth problem in Spring Valley and the Lemon Grove areas is of utmost importance. Already the S.V. Kiwanis has a move to establish a couple of youth clubs in Monte Vista High School.

The S.V. Kiwanis invites interested men of the area to pay a visit to the club. Elmer Lash of the Telephone Company is president.

CONGRATS TO GRAY

Congratulations to Jim Gray formerly a science teacher a S.V. Junior High School, who has been named vice principa at La Mesa Junior High. Jim did a great job with the S.V students.

THOMAS JOINS ARMY

"You're in the Army now." Meaning Jerry Thomas, young est son of Mr. and Mrs. (Frani and Ruby) Thomas, of 901 Kenwood dr., S.V. who ha signed up for a three-year hitch in Uncle Sam's Army. He i taking his basic training at Ft Ord. Jerry went all through school in Spring Valley; S.V Elementary, S.V. Junior High and Mt. Miguel High. Signing up for the Army took place just a few days before his 18th birthday. He hopes to be in the electronics field.

MRS. CAVALIER VISITS MOM, BROTHER IN OHIO

"Home to see Mom." That was the main reason for Mrs Melville (Catherine) Cavalier of 2224 Central ave., S.V., making a trip to Ohio recently. She hadn't seen mom for over a year, "Mom" being her mother Mrs. Louise Leslie, a hostess at the famous Commodore Perry Hotel in Toledo. While back east, Catherine also visited her brother Krily Krauss an employe of the Chrysler Corp. He too is on a trip through General Motors and on up into Ontario, Canada, a beautiful area where Catherine had visited when she was a child.

Catherine said she realized the meaning of "the great country of the United States," on her trip back to California when she became acquainted with a family from Sweden here for the first time, and what they said about this country in praise was a tear-jerker, Catherine said.

FORMER SV TREASURER PANS GOLD ON TRIP

The former S.V. C of C treasurer George Robeson and his wife Edith, of 8872 Troy st. along with her uncle and aunt the Grady McDougals of Campo, recently traveled by car and trailer to Auburn, Cal., for a bit of fishing and general relaxation. They got a little of both but the fishing was not too exciting, George said. They did have an opportunity to tour a lumber mill and do a bit of gold panning. On the way home they paid a visit to relatives at the ever-popular Lake Tahoe, which they enjoyed no end.

And speaking of gold panning, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner, also of Troy st., and relatives of the Robeson's, have been up north for several months now, panning gold. I understand they are having quite a time and getting enough gold to pay their expenses.

Getting back to the Robesons; their son Edwin and family stopped in Spring Valley recently to pay Pop and Mom a visit; first time in quite a while. Edwin's a co-pilot for the South Pacific Airlines. He and his family now live in Kailua, Oahu, in the Hawaiian Islands.

PETERS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. A. Peters, down on Central avenue recently entertained out-of-town visitors; in fact, the same two visitors at two different times: Mr. and Mrs. Amandus Peters of Casa Grande, Ariz. Amandus and Al are cousins, while Mrs. Amandus Peters and Mrs. Al Peters are sisters.

The out-of-towners stopped in Our Valley the first time as they were on their way to board a freighter, which would take them to Germany. And their second S.V. stop was on the way back, before going home.

SV Fire Department Reports Light Week

The Spring Valley Fire Department had a light week for the week of Sept. 19-26, with one first aid at Fire Station 1 two ambulance runs and one fire call.

Jimmy Stalnaker, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stalnaker of 5865 Yorkshire, La Mesa (formerly of Spring Valley) was taken to Station 1 on Sept. 20, suffering from bad breathing and was administered the use of the inhalator. It was reported the boy suffers occasionally from a blood problem.

Clifford Stackhouse, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stackhouse of San Diego, was taken to Grossmont Hospital on Sept. 22, after he had fallen from a car at Bancroft and Troy st. He was suffering from a possible fractured right arm and face lacerations.

Leo Landsteiner of 9814 Lamar st., was taken to Naval Hospital on Sept. 22, after the car he had been driving hit a mailbox and tree in the 3100 block on Sweetwater ave. He was suffering from a possible chest injury and lacerations of the face. He was later released and taken home. Mrs. Landsteiner said later her husband had swerved to the side of the road to avoid hitting an oncoming car which was on his side of the road. When he hit the mailbox, it knocked him out, then the car went to the other side of the road, hitting the tree.

The lone fire call of the week was on Sept. 23. There was a brush fire just off Sweetwater road, but it turned out to be controlled burning.

Support Of Oct. 10 School Ballot Given By Citizens Advisory Group

Grossmonts Citizens Advisory committee adopted unanimously on Wednesday evening Sept. 13 a resolution supporting Proposition 1, A and B on the school election ballot October 10. Members, meeting in the Board room at Grossmont, discussed Proposition 1, which asks voters to authorize $8,000,000 in bonds to finance purchase of two college sites and to build and equip one college plant. Proposition A asks that voters reauthorize $1,800,000 in funds already authorized but unavailable from the state loan program. This would provide for construction in Santee of the Grossmont District's 8th high school. Proposition B asks voters to change the expiring tax rate from $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation to $1.50 to permit the high schools to maintain the program of education at the existing level.

President John Hansen of Grossmont College, now in operation on the Monte Vista campus, spoke to C.A.C., emphasizing the need for college facilities as soon as possible, since it looks as if the enrollment of the freshman class will reach 1,500 this year. He pointed ahead to even larger enrollments in the fall of 1962 when both first and second year classes will be established. President Hansen said, "Although we are very fortunate to have facilities for our day classes, having a college and a high school student body on the same campus is not without its problems."

Harold G. Hughes, associate superintendent of the Grossmont High School and College Districts pointed to an approval of Proposition B as essential if the seven high schools of the district are to maintain present standards. This year's current operation budget had to be trimmed by $400,000.

Mrs. Lou Morrow, C.A.C. chairman, presented the Grossmont Citizens Committee for Schools to the group after a question and answer session. The C.A.C. committee selected the fourth Wednesday of every month as the regular meeting night.
